

Greeting Interactions: Users can initiate a conversation with greetings such as "Hi," "How are you?", "Is anyone there?", "Hello," "Good day," "What's up," "how are ya," "hey," and "whatsup." The chatbot is programmed to respond warmly with messages like "Hello!", "Good to see you here!", and "Hi there, how can I help?". The context for these interactions is categorized under "GreetingUserRequest," aimed at creating a welcoming atmosphere without requiring a clear context.

Goodbye Interactions: When users intend to end the conversation, they might use phrases like "bye," "see you," "bye bye," "See you later," "Goodbye," "I am Leaving," "Have a Good day," "talk to you later," "ttyl," "I got to go," and "gtg." The chatbot responds with expressions of farewell including "Goodbye!", "Sad to see you go :(", "Talk to you later," and "Come back soon." These are categorized under "LeavingUserRequest" to acknowledge the end of the interaction.

Inquiries About the Creator: If users ask about the chatbot's creators using questions such as "what is the name of your developers?", "who created you?", "your creators?", "who are your developers?", "developers", "you are made by whom?", "who created you?", "creators", "who made you?", and "who designed you?", the chatbot simply responds with "6th Semester Students of Sukkur Iba University" This response is part of the "AskingCreator" context, which is cleared immediately after providing the information to allow the conversation to shift to other topics smoothly.
